Welcome

“The nicest and friendliest museum”

Congratulations

You’ve agreed to make your relationship official and have discovered a hidden treasure in mid-Wales. The Andrew Logan Museum of Sculpture is exciting and colourful, spiritual rather than religious, never takes art too seriously and exudes joy and love.

Are you looking for an alternative venue in which to express your creativity, one that focuses on your uniqueness and provides a celebration space that everyone remembers for its style and originality? Then look no further, YOU’VE FOUND US!

Croeso, is Welsh for welcome and you and up to 40 guests will be guaranteed a warm welcome at a venue described as “the nicest and friendliest museum” in Wales. We embrace the natural spectrum of partnerships and styles that vary from traditional to utterly flamboyant. We hope our joyful values will be reflected in your day of celebration.

beauty and joy”

Enjoy Your Celebration

The museum provides an amazing space for your wedding or civil partnership and is available for hire on an exclusive basis. You can be assured of a relaxed, happy atmosphere, which will astound and delight your guests. The ceremony takes place amongst the collection of Andrew Logan’s sculptures, either with a backdrop of the Cosmic Egg or Egypt Revisited Alternative Pyramid. 40 guests can be seated comfortably, in addition to yourselves and the three required officials. There is hardly a need for additional styling with the array of sculptures, mirror portraits and colourful jewels, but you are very welcome to add your own embellishments.

We will gladly provide you with a list of local suppliers, who we are pleased to recommend for services such as photography, floral arrangements and music and you won’t need to look too far for a designer of exquisite, bespoke jewellery. Our sister company, the Lion Art Hotel would be delighted to provide you with drinks and canapés after the ceremony, or you are welcome to choose your own suppliers.

After The Ceremony

You'd be hard pressed to find a more vividly colourful and glamorous setting for a wedding reception in mid-Wales than the Lion Hotel and Restaurant. The hotel, owned by Andrew Logan and his partner Michael Davis, is just a stone's throw away, across the bridge in the charming village of Berriew. It offers a fusion of old-world charm and modern sophistication, where mirrored artworks by Andrew Logan and vibrant colour schemes complement 17th century architecture with a metropolitan flourish.

Each room is a feast for the eyes and the Lion Art Hotel caters exceptionally well to all palates. It offers a range of drinks and bespoke menus for your reception, tailored to you exact requirements. Lee Kendall, hotel manager and national award-winning wedding co-ordinator, is on hand to assist in the planning of your special day. Choose from the Red Room, with private dining for up to 16 guests or the Blue Restaurant, which can seat 40 people. Up to 15 guests can be accommodated in seven en-suite bedrooms, themed around Andrew's art.

Plan Your Visit

We would love to show you around our venue, as it is impossible to capture the essence of the artistic space in photographs. The works of art exude Andrew's joy and this generally inspires all our visitors. The museum is usually open to the public during weekends from May to August, however, viewings can be arranged at anytime. Exclusive use can be arranged for the day of your ceremony and Lesley Jones, our wedding planner, is on hand to help with your preparations. Contact details are as follows:
